IKE IS NOT WORRIED BY RED BOMB CLAIM

And He Got An Answer, Too!

School Problems Here Explained To President By Bloomingburg Youth

MAIL FROM THE WHITE HOUSE came to Larry Grimm (center), Bloomingburg eighth grader. Examining it with him are fellow pupils Jack McCoy (left) and Kay Heistand, along with William Baughin (standing), Larry's history teacher who suggested he write to the president.

What do you do when you want to get action on a problem?

Talk to your neighbor? Speak to your councilman? Or maybe write to your congressman?

Well, Larry Grimm, a towheaded 14-year old Bloomingburg boy, goes straight to the president, of the United States.

Apparently a youngster who won't take second-best, Larry got riled up over something last week and wrote direct to President Ike. And, he got an answer, too.

It's this way: Larry is in the eighth grade in the Bloomingburg School. He's one of the youngsters who would be affected by the widely-discussed merger of all the four present Miami Trace district high schools into a single county school or a consolidation of all five high schools in the county.

Larry heard that the Bloomingburg PTO had discussed the proposed merger at its recent meeting. He went and talked it over with one of his teachers, William Baughin. Baughin suggested that if he had some thoughts on the question he should take some action.

ACTION is hardly the word for it, Larry went home and wrote the president of the United States—he told him about Fayette County's school situation and asked him if he couldn't use his influence in some way to get people concerned about it?

The President couldn't do quite that—Larry was informed that, of course, the President could not enter into an affair of this sort. But, Larry was told, the President certainly appreciated a letter of that sort.

Ike's answer was signed by Sherman Adams, his closest right hand man.

Mr. Baughin, with a look of some amusement on his face, said that Larry's action didn't surprise him too much. "He's a bright boy," Baughin said, "and it's the type of thing I'd expect out of him."

NEW YORK (AP)—The two surviving quadruplets born to a tiny Bronx mother were reported in fair condition today.

One boy weighing 2 pounds 15 ounces died yesterday. A second boy died last night. He weighed 3 pounds 3 ounces.

The survivors are both girls. The 25-year-old mother, Mrs. Carmen Medina, gave birth to the quads Monday. She is 5 feet 2 and weighs only 96 pounds.

Dem Senator Sees Soil Bank OK Assured

Russell's Committee To Question Benson On Advance Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today he is "confident there will be a soil bank program adopted by the Congress this session."

He made this comment as he asked Secretary of Agriculture Benson to appear at a hearing of the Senate appropriations subcommittee handling the annual farm money bill.

Russell, who heads the subcommittee, said he would question Benson and other Eisenhower administration officials about a House Democratic proposal to vote $1.2 billion for soil bank payments this year.

The soil bank proposal, President Eisenhower's major 1956 farm recommendation, contemplates paying subsidies to farmers who agree to remove from production land they otherwise would plant to crops already in surplus.

Many key Democrats have argued that if Congress votes the money, Benson can put a soil bank program into operation under authority of a 20-year-old soil conservation law.

BENSON DISPUTES this, saying new authority is required, and there were indications that some Democrats at least are coming around to that view.

The soil bank was included in a catch-all farm bill which Eisenhower vetoed last week on grounds that high price supports and other provisions it contained would nullify the benefits he says will come from a soil bank.

He asked Congress to approve a simple soil bank bill, and a number of Congress members have introduced such legislation.

House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts said the Republicans, with expected help from Democratic farm state members, "have the votes now" to hitch Eisenhower's soil bank program to the Agriculture Department's annual money bill.

Consideration of that bill, originally scheduled for today, was postponed until next week.

Late yesterday, House GOP members voted unanimously for a "comprehensive, effective and equitable" soil bank, "specifically including the President's proposal for prepayment this year."

Chairman Cooley (D-N.C.) of the House Agriculture Committee has introduced a soil bank bill which omitted authority to make advance pre-election payments this year to farmers agreeing to take land out of production and put it in a soil bank reserve next year.

Eisenhower proposed prepayments of 50 per cent when a farmer signs a soil bank contract.

It was learned that Cooley's bill was drawn with the advice of Agriculture Department attorneys.

Aides said he omitted the prepayment provision to conform with Eisenhower's original soil bank proposal. The advance payment suggestion was made after Eisenhower vetoed the farm bill last week.

Twin Sisters, 20, Awaiting Surgery

BOSTON (AP)—A set of 20-year-old twin women are scheduled to arrive tonight to undergo a rare kidney operation here if they are identical twins.

They are Mrs. Edith Helm of Sand Springs, Okla., and Mrs. Wanda Foster of Chandler, Okla.

If hospital tests prove that they are identical twins—born of a single but split fertilized egg—one of Mrs. Foster's healthy kidneys will be transplanted to her sister.

The hospital said twins must be identical—not fraternal—because a transplanted organ cannot live in alien flesh.

Washington C. H. residents appear agreed that chronic bad drivers should lose their right to drive but they seem pretty uncertain of how to take it away.

A random sample of views of people in the downtown area gave resounding support to the assertion of Highway Safety Director U. C. Felty's that the bad drivers have to be weeded out.

But when asked how Felty should go about it, the interviewees admitted that they couldn't figure out any foolproof way to do it.

Some—but not many—felt that Felty's original assertion that all drivers should be retested was the answer. Others felt this was out, for a variety of reasons.

"Naturally people are going to be on their best behavior when they're taking a test," said a housewife, adding "I don't feel it would do too much good."

"It's unfair to retest everyone,"

Government Officials Short-Changing US Public On Information It Needs

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard W. Slocum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., said today that U. S. newspapers "have not been gaining in the battle" for a free press.

In an address before the annual ANPA meeting, Slocum charged that "government officials are short-changing the public on information it should have."

He urged editors to look into the motives behind the recent Senate subcommittee questioning of New York newsmen and the U. S. Treasury's temporary seizure of the Communist Daily Worker for allegedly unpaid taxes.

He said newspapers should announce that they will fight "harassment or interference with the public right to a free press."

And he said editors have not supported what he termed the "wholesome study" being conducted by a House subcommittee into withholding of information within the government.

Slocum, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, expressed confidence "that the American press will meet its obligation of full, fair, objective and unbiased reporting" of the year's political campaigns.

Noting that there is a difference between the news and editorial columns of a newspaper, he said:

"We would urge upon both political parties that in any criticism or attack they name specific newspapers for a specific performance or lack of it, not cast an accusation against the whole press or any special part of it."

"The public must give stronger support to the 'battle for press freedom,' he told more than 1,000 publishers meeting here.

"We are the active trustees of that right and we intend to continue vigilant and vigorous in its assertion, for government agencies constantly tend to act like clams," he said.

Slocum said no newsmen wants to harm the nation's security.

Five New Members Inducted

New officers were elected and five new members were inducted at one of the busiest and most important meetings of the Washington C. H. Lions Club in months.

John Breiner becomes the new president in the regular order of succession by which the club officers are chosen.

Persinger, sponsored by Paul Van Voorhis; Forrest Harper, sponsored by Dustin Gorton and Max Hopewell, sponsored by Wayne Bower.

The sponsors presented the Lions Club lapel buttons to the new members and Secretary Mark handed each his certificate of membership at the conclusion of the induction ceremony.

President Gorton reviewed the plans that have been made for the matinee harness horse racing program that is to be put on at the Fairground here May 5 under the sponsorship of the club; this review, in the nature of a progress report, was concluded with: The outlook is bright for a bigger and better program than ever."

He also announced that several additional committees and chairman had been appointed to help make his prediction of the outlook materialize.

Eddie Kirk, the general chairman of the committee, was not at the meeting.

DON GIBSON, chairman of the program committee, announced that all of the honor students of Washington C. H. High School (students in the top four grades who have a straight A average) will be honor guests of the club at its regular May 8 meeting. He emphasized that these students will be selected on the basis of scholarship alone as distinguished from members of the Honor Society, who are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, leadership and participation in school activities.

He said there would be a special speaker for this occasion.

To complete the full program for the evening, a motion picture showing progress made by Lions International since 1914. Among the scenes were those of the buildings the organization has occupied and the new headquarters in Chicago.

The film also showed the interior of the new Chicago building, the personnel and some of the operations as well as some of the activities at the national convention last year in Atlantic City.

The president announced that the May 22 meeting would be held at the farm home of Emerson Marting on the CCC Highway.

President Says U. S., Russia About Equal

Chief Shunning Idea Of Calling Off May H-Weapon Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he believes the United States is somewhere around the position of the Soviet Union in the development of guided missiles.

Eisenhower made the statement at a news conference in replying to questions dealing with the assertion by Kremlin leader Nikita Khrushchev that Russia soon will have a hydrogen bomb missile capable of striking at any part of the world.

Eisenhower at the same time rejected suggestions by Adlai Stevenson and others that this country halt its tests of hydrogen bombs. A new test is scheduled in the Pacific next month.

While refusing to comment specifically on the proposal by Stevenson, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Eisenhower said it was a bit paradoxical, when we are working as hard as we can on development of guided missiles, for anyone to advocate halting H-bomb tests.

The President said he wishes the money spent on such programs could be channeled to peaceful uses.

AND HE WISHES it known that in conducting the tests the United States is not simply trying to come up with what he termed a bigger bang than some other country.

But research in nuclear weapons fields without tests is useless and a waste of money, Eisenhower said. He added that as long as it is necessary to get into the weapons field, it should be done right.

As for Khrushchev's statement that the Soviet Union soon will have a guided missile with an H-bomb warhead, Eisenhower said he sees no reason why the Russian would make a mistake on a matter like that. He added that he did not accuse him of doing so.

But the President went on to say there is a very big difference between the capacity to turn out such weapons and the actual production of instruments of war.

Near the outset of the conference, in response to a question, Eisenhower said he believes no useful purpose would be served at this time by a visit to this country by Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin. The Russians are now visiting Britain.

The President said he might change his mind under different circumstances, but now feels that there is very little need for such a visit until something new in the international picture turns up.

Eisenhower said he and the Russian leaders had a very thorough discussion of world problems at last year's summit conference at Geneva.

The President also dealt with these other matters:

TAXES—Eisenhower said in his opinion it would not be in the best interest of the United States to reduce taxes at this time.

Eisenhower noted that for the last few years it has been necessary to increase temporarily the national debt ceiling, now pegged at $275 billion. As long as that situation prevails, he said, it would not be wise to think about reducing taxes.

He called it only prudent to plan to apply something like a billion to 1½ billion dollars on the debt before cutting taxes.

Politics—Up to now, Eisenhower said, Vice President Nixon has given him no reply he would consider authoritative and definitive on whether Nixon wants to be his running mate again.

Eisenhower had said previously he had asked Nixon to chart his own course regarding another term and report to him. Asked whether he had received such a report, the President smiled and said he had not, at least not in the terms he had discussed the matter with newsmen earlier.

Eisenhower was told that some Democrats have settled on a policy of making him their target in this year's political campaign rather than shooting at the more abstract Eisenhower administration or at administration officials.

The President responded quickly that he believes that is the correct thing for the Democrats to do. After all, he added, he is the head of the administration and he has been shot at before.

MT Board Talks With Architects

Members Plan Tour Of Nearby Schools

The Miami Trace School Board, in a special session Tuesday evening, began to interview possible architects of the proposed Miami Trace rural high school building.

The board interviewed representatives of six architectural firms and made plans for a tour of Clark County schools designed by two of those firms.

The tour, slated for next Sunday, is for board members, the board's fact finders and "all others who are interested," said Supt. W. W. Boyer of the Miami Trace district.

In the morning, the tourists will inspect one or more of several schools designed by Ralph Harmon of Springfield. All the schools are in Springfield and Clark County.

Sunday afternoon, the tour group will visit the Greenon School near Enon in Clark County. The high school, designed by John Kline of Springfield, is a 500 - student building which opened last fall.

Future tours will be arranged to visit schools designed by the other four firms, Supt. Boyer said.

IN ADDITION to the Kline and Harmon firms, other firms represented at the meeting were Van Buren, Ayers & Blackburn of Columbus; Joseph Baker and Associates of Newark; John Quincy Adams of Columbus, and Sims, Cornelius & Schooley of Columbus.

Corn Growers Assured Of $1.25 Bushel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Corn growers in commercial corn areas will be assured of at least $1.25 a bushel this year even if they do not comply with acreage allotments.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has announced the government will guarantee them not less than $1.25 and not less than 70 per cent of parity. Parity is a price deemed fair to a farmer in relation to his production costs.

Previously no price supports have been available for corn in commercial areas which was not produced under Agriculture Department allotment controls.

The Benson announcement was one of a series of farm relief measures taken by the administration in the wake of President Eisenhower's veto of Democratic-sponsored farm legislation.

Benson also announced that corn grown in compliance with the restricted acreage plan will be supported at $1.50 a bushel or at 86.2 per cent of parity.

The post-veto support price is 10 cents a bushel higher than that previously announced for 1956, although it is still below the price guaranteed last year. Corn was supported at a $1.58 level in 1955.

Government Officials Short-Changing US Public On Information It Needs

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard W. Slocum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., said today that U. S. newspapers "have not been gaining in the battle" for a free press.

In an address before the annual ANPA meeting, Slocum charged that "government officials are short-changing the public on information it should have."

He urged editors to look into the motives behind the recent Senate subcommittee questioning of New York newsmen and the U. S. Treasury's temporary seizure of the Communist Daily Worker for allegedly unpaid taxes.

He said newspapers should announce that they will fight "harassment or interference with the public right to a free press."

"We are the active trustees of that right and we intend to continue vigilant and vigorous in its assertion, for government agencies constantly tend to act like clams," he said.

Slocum said no newsmen wants to harm the nation's security.

"The trouble arises, and the public gets short-changed on information," he said, "because many public officials have an outsized sense of what is important in national security."

Turning to the probe of possible Communist activities among newspapermen by Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss) and the Daily Worker tax case Slocum said:

"Hearings like those of the Senate Eastland committee, which called a number of New York City newspapermen before it, must be looked at to determine whether the motive was as stated or directed at certain newspapers with the thought of reprisal or intimidation."

Slocum, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, expressed confidence "that the American press will meet its obligation of full, fair, objective and unbiased reporting" of the year's political campaigns.

Noting that there is a difference between the news and editorial columns of a newspaper, he said:

"We would urge upon both political parties that in any criticism or attack they name specific newspapers for a specific performance or lack of it, not cast an accusation against the whole press or any special part of it."

The public must give stronger support to the "battle for press freedom," he told more than 1,000 publishers meeting here.

"We are the active trustees of that right and we intend to continue vigilant and vigorous in its assertion, for government agencies constantly tend to act like clams," he said.

Slocum said no newsmen wants to harm the nation's security.

"The trouble arises, and the public gets short-changed on information," he said, "because many public officials have an outsized sense of what is important in national security."

Turning to the probe of possible Communist activities among newspapermen by Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss) and the Daily Worker tax case Slocum said:

Rose Ave. PTA Elects Officers

Improvement Noted In Traffic Control

The Parent - Teacher Association of the Rose Avenue School today was ready to start another year under the guidance of a new set of officers.

Mrs. Richard Whited was chosen for the president to succeed Mrs. Thurman Coulter by one of the biggest turnouts in many months at Tuesday night's meeting at the school.

Other officers named to serve with her are Mrs. William Southern, Jr., first vice president; Prin. Hugh Rea, second vice president (re-elected); Mrs. Charles DeWitt, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Blair, treasurer.

The retiring officers are Mrs. Coulter, the president; Mrs. Robert Whitfield, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph E. Horney, secretary; and Mrs. Harold Lyons, treasurer. Prin. Rea was the only officer re-elected.

On the nominating committee that submitted the slate of officers that was accepted unanimously without change were Mrs. Harry Townsend, Mrs. Glen Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Harper.

MRS. COULTER expressed appreciation of the outgoing officers for the cooperation and support given them by the members during the year. She thanked the room mothers especially for what they had done; Mrs. Victor Bandy is the chairman of the room mothers.

While the election claimed much of the attention and interest at the meeting, it did not take up the entire time by any means.

Thurman Coulter demonstrated the 3-speed high fidelity record player the PTA had bought for the school. Coulter was chairman of the purchasing committee.

Mrs. Coulter commended the committee that took the school census and noted that the money that is paid for the taking of the census goes to the City PTA Council to provide a college scholarship for some selected student preparing for a teaching career. All told, the Council is to get $250 for the census which is to be taken by members of the five PTA units in the city. On the committee, were Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. Whited, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. John Callender, Mrs. Richard Keller and Mrs. Lee Alderman, the chairman.

DURING the discussion of the traffic problems that have plagued the school for some time, it was brought out that the situation had improved considerably since traffic warning signs in the image of a policeman had been placed in the streets around the school and police officers had been assigned to the area to direct traffic on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, the days the big sales are held at the stockyards about three blocks east of the school.

Appreciation of the faithful service of the school patrol boys is to be expressed in a more tangible way later—a trip to a baseball game, probably to see the Columbus Jets in action. One of the highlights of the meeting was one of the most unusual programs that has ever been presented at Rose Avenue. It was the enactment of a regular music lesson for the third graders. All the pupils were there and in their regular seats and Mrs. George Pensyl conducted the class in music. Mrs. Leonard Watts, the teacher, turned the class over to Mrs. Pensyl. The audience gathered around the sides of the room and in the hall outside and looked through the door.

The officers were the hostess for the refreshments following adjournment.

The meeting was preceded by a potluck supper at 6:30 o'clock.

Two-thirds of Americans lived on farms in 1850 compared with less than one-seventh today.

GOP Candidates To Appear Here

Young Republicans Plan Dinner Friday

Rep. Cedric A. Stanley, Republican member of the Ohio House of Representatives from Lebanon, will be the guest speaker at a Fayette County Young Republican Club pre-election candidate's dinner, set for Friday night.

Rep. Stanley will speak on "The Importance of Young People in Republican Politics." Young Republicans from all over the county, as well as a full slate of GOP candidates from both inside and outside of this area will be among the guests at the banquet.

Among the candidates scheduled to appear at the session are Ray Brandenburg of Washington C. H. and Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, both seeking the Republican nomination for state senator from the fifth-sixth senatorial district.

William Saxbe, Urbana candidate for attorney general and William C. Kelly, Cincinnati lieutenant governorship aspirant, are among the names on the guest list. All Republican candidates from within the county, as well as all GOP candidates for state senator and state representative, have been invited to the affair.

A similar dinner held two years ago here drew well over 100 persons according to Richard Willis, one of the planners for the affair. John Bailly is chairman of arrangements for the dinner.

Services Held For Mrs. C. E. Haigler

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles E. Haigler were held at 2 P. M. Tuesday in the Hook & Son Funeral Home here.

Many friends and relatives attended the services. Rev. L. Wendell Hughes, pastor of the Unitarian Church in Dayton, was in charge of the services. He read from the Scriptures, offered prayer, delivered a sermon, read a memoir prepared by Mrs. Forest DeBra and two hymns, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" by Dr. Washington Gladden and "Mystery Presence" by Seth Curtis Beach, and pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Reynold Slaughter, Jr., sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Loren Noble. Mrs. Noble also played the prelude and postlude. The many flowers were cared for by the pallbearers, Hugh Kennedy, Francis Marion Kennedy, Robert Zimmerman, Keith Zimmerman, Willard Lampe and Ervin Miller.

Burial was in the family lot in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

comes obvious therefore that no official reply or consideration of such an invitation would be appropriate upon the part of the Miami Trace Board.

"Since, however, there have been publicized rumors regarding such an invitation, it does seem fitting at this time to note that, school-wise, conditions now existing are exactly the same as those of the April 4 joint meeting of the Washington C. H. City Board and Miami Trace Board, the exception being that Miami Trace Board has made substantial and highly satisfactory progress toward providing educational opportunities for those Miami Trace tuition students recently barred from attending Washington C. H. High School in future years.

"No factors exist now in addition to those which existed then that would justify hopes of additional progress as the result of another joint meeting between the City and Miami Trace Board.

"The Miami Trace Board noted and discussed the following points: (1) The rural tuition students were barred from attending Washington C. H. High School by the City Board without consulting or advising with the Miami Trace Board.

"(2) The City Board has taken no official action to rescind the resolution barring rural high school students, nor given any indication of any official change of attitude.

"(3) Definite plans and certain commitments have been made with the ultimate objective of accommodating all rural high school students at Jeffersonville High School."

202 Students Take Part in BIE Day Tours

Today is BIE Day. A total of 202 seniors from all five high schools in the county observed the day by touring 23 business and industrial concerns in Washington C. H.

Planned jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the city and county schools, the all-day tours are designed to give the students a better understanding of the advantages of the American free enterprise system.

Each group of students was the luncheon guest of the business or industry which it visited.

Before the tours began at 10 A. M. Wednesday, a program was held in the auditorium of the Washington C. H. High School. Highlights were talks by Supt. W. A. Smith of the city schools, Supt. W. J. Hilty of the county schools and City Manager James Parkinson.

The BIE—Business, Industry and Education—observance is the fifth in an annual series.

The tours ended at 3 P. M.

3 Ohio Men Missing In Hotel Blaze

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—A roaring fire destroyed the century-old Carver Hotel here early today and hours later police sought three Ohio guests listed as missing.

The list of missing had been cut from an original total of seven as four men reported they had escaped safely from the blazing 105-room structure. But Police Chief Mike Evan, who had been optimistic that all guests would be found safe, admitted:

"We're worried about three men. We have been unable to find any trace of them."

Chief Evan said the three Ohio guests had registered as:

M. D. Pinney of Jefferson.
B. J. Stotts of Dayton.
M. V. Dwight of Akron.

The broadcast appeals asked each of these men to contact Warren police immediately. Police were attempting to check their families to see whether the men had reported to their homes.

One hotel guest and one would-be rescuer were hospitalized for injuries. At least five other guests were treated for injuries.

The four-story brick structure burned almost to the ground in the furious fire that was discovered shortly before 1:30 a. m. Sixty-five guests were registered in the hotel at the time.

Mrs. Susan Stone Milledgville, Dies

Mrs. Susan M. Stone, 92, died at 6:30 A. M. Wednesday at the Milledgville home of her daughter, Mrs. Mae Patrick.

A native of Oil Springs, Ky., she had been a resident of Fayette County for the past 14 years.

She is survived by a son, Ollie of Washington C. H.; five daughters, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Ducey Salyer of Lucasville, Mrs. Graham Harris of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Floyd Day of Wenatchee, Wash., and Mrs. June Salyer of Washington C. H.; 30 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9 A. M. Saturday in the Parrett Funeral Home, with Rev. Arthur George and Rev. Charles Ware in charge. Burial will be in the Stone Cemetery in Oil Springs, Ky.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Burglars Active In Williamsport

It is possible that the same burglars who chiseled open a safe at the Meriwether Motor Co. office here Monday night, and obtained about $175, operated in Williamsport, the same night, where they obtained an estimated $200 in small change.

The Deer Creek Auto Parts and a lumber yard in Williamsport were visited by the burglars, and no clues of consequence were left by the intruders. No safes were molested at either place.

Rose Ave. PTA Elects Officers

Improvement Noted In Traffic Control

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Rose Avenue School today was ready to start another year under the guidance of a new set of officers.

Mrs. Richard Whited was chosen for the president to succeed Mrs. Thurman Coulter by one of the biggest turnouts in many months at Tuesday night's meeting at the school.

Other officers named to serve with her are Mrs. William Southern, Jr., first vice president; Prin. Hugh Rea, second vice president (reelected); Mrs. Charles DeWitt, secretary, and Mrs. Kenneth Blair, treasurer.

The retiring officers are Mrs. Coulter, the president; Mrs. Robert Whitfield, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph E. Horney, secretary; Mrs. Harold Lyons, treasurer. Prin. Rea was the only officer re-elected.

On the nominating committee that submitted the slate of officers that was accepted unanimously without change were Mrs. Harry Townsend, Mrs. Glen Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Harper.

MRS. COULTER expressed appreciation of the outgoing officers for the cooperation and support given them by the members during the year. She thanked the room mothers especially for what they had done; Mrs. Victor Bandy is the chairman of the room mothers.

While the election claimed much of the attention and interest at the meeting, it did not take up the entire time by any means.

Thurman Coulter demonstrated the 3-speed high fidelity record player the PTA had bought for the school. Coulter was chairman of the purchasing committee.

Mrs. Coulter commended the committee that took the school census and noted that the money that is paid for the taking of the census goes to the City PTA Council to provide a college scholarship for some selected student preparing for a teaching career. All told, the Council is to get $250 for the census which is to be taken by members of the five PTA units in the city. On the committee, were Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. Whited, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. John Callender, Mrs. Richard Keller and Mrs. Lee Alderman, the chairman.

DURING THE discussion of the traffic problems that have plagued the school for some time, it was brought out that the situation had improved considerably since traffic warning signs in the image of a policeman had been placed in the streets around the school and police officers had been assigned to the area to direct traffic on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, the days the big sales are held at the stockyards about three blocks east of the school.

Appreciation of the faithful service of the school patrol boys is to be expressed in a more tangible way later—a trip to a baseball game, probably to see the Columbus Jets in action. One of the highlights of the meeting was one of the most unusual programs that has ever been presented at Rose Avenue. It was the enactment of a regular music lesson for the third graders. All the pupils were there and in their regular seats and Mrs. George Pensyl conducted the class in music. Mrs. Leonard Watts, the teacher, turned the class over to Mrs. Pensyl. The audience gathered around the sides of the room and in the hall outside and looked through the door.

The officers were the hostess for the refreshments following adjournment. The meeting was preceded by a potluck supper at 6:30 o'clock.

Two-thirds of Americans lived on farms in 1850 compared with less than one-seventh today.

GOP Candidates To Appear Here

Young Republicans Plan Dinner Friday

Rep. Cedric A. Stanley, Republican member of the Ohio House of Representatives from Lebanon, will be the guest speaker at a Fayette County Young Republican Club pre-election candidate's dinner, set for Friday night.

Rep. Stanley will speak on "The Importance of Young People in Republican Politics."

Young Republicans from all over the county, as well as a full slate of GOP candidates from both inside and outside of this area will be among the guests at the banquet.

Among the candidates scheduled to appear at the session are Ray Brandenburg of Washington C. H. and Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, both seeking the Republican nomination for state senator from the fifth-sixth senatorial district.

William Saxbe, Urbana candidate for attorney general and William C. Kelly, Cincinnati lieutenant governorship aspirant, are among the names on the guest list.

All Republican candidates from within the county, as well as all GOP candidates for state senator and state representative, have been invited to the affair.

A similar dinner held two years ago here drew well over 100 persons according to Richard Willis, one of the planners for the affair. John Baily is chairman of arrangements for the dinner.

Services Held For Mrs. C. E. Haigler

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles E. Haigler were held at 2 P. M. Tuesday in the Hook & Son Funeral Home here.

Many friends and relatives attended the services. Rev. L. Wendell Hughes, pastor of the Unitarian Church in Dayton, was in charge of the services. He read from the Scriptures, offered prayer, delivered a sermon, read a memoir prepared by Mrs. Forest DeBra and two hymns, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" by Dr. Washington Gladden and "Mysterious Presence" by Seth Curtis Beach, and pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Reynold Slaughter, Jr., sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Loren Noble. Mrs. Noble also played the prelude and postlude.

The many flowers were cared for by the pallbearers, Hugh Kennedy, Francis Marion Kennedy, Robert Zimmerman, Keith Zimmerman, Willard Lampe and Ervin Miller.

Burial was in the family lot in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

showed photographs, sketches or plans of the buildings their firms have designed. Supt. Boyer said. The board, he added, asked preliminary questions about approximate cost figures and possible facilities of the proposed building.

Other business of the meeting included drafting a statement in which the board said that it had received "no official invitation to attend a joint meeting with any other board of education."

The text of the statement: "In special meeting April 24, the Miami Trace Board of Education discussed the Washington C. H. City Board's recent action barring tuition students from the city high school and reached the following conclusion:

"Since the Miami Trace Board has received no official invitation to attend a joint meeting with any other board of education, it becomes obvious therefore that no official reply or consideration of such an invitation would be appropriate upon the part of the Miami Trace Board.

"Since, however, there have been publicized rumors regarding such an invitation, it does seem fitting at this time to note that, school-wise, conditions now existing are exactly the same as those of the April 4 joint meeting of the Washington C. H. City Board and Miami Trace Board, the exception being that Miami Trace Board has made substantial and highly satisfactory progress toward providing educational opportunities for those Miami Trace tuition students recently barred from attending Washington C. H. High School in future years.

"No factors exist now in addition to those which existed then that would justify hopes of additional progress as the result of another joint meeting between the City and Miami Trace Board.

"The Miami Trace Board noted and discussed the following points: "(1) The rural tuition students were barred from attending Washington C. H. High School by the City Board without consulting or advising with the Miami Trace Board.

"(2) The City Board has taken no official action to rescind the resolution barring rural high school students nor given any indication of any official change of attitude.

"(3) Definite plans and certain commitments have been made with the ultimate objective of accommodating all rural high school students at Jeffersonville High School."

"We are unable to find any trace of them."

Chief Evan said the three Ohio guests had registered as: M. D. Pinney of Jefferson. B. J. Stotts of Dayton. M. V. Dwight of Akron.

The broadcast appeals asked each of these men to contact Warren police immediately. Police were attempting to check their families to see whether the men had reported to their homes.

One hotel guest and one would-be rescuer were hospitalized for injuries. At least five other guests were treated for injuries.

The four-story brick structure burned almost to the ground in the furious fire that was discovered shortly before 1:30 a. m. Sixty-five guests were registered in the hotel at the time.

202 Students Take Part in BIE Day Tours

Today is BIE Day. A total of 202 seniors from all five high schools in the county observed the day by touring 23 business and industrial concerns in Washington C. H.

Planned jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the city and county schools, the all-day tours are designed to give the students a better understanding of the advantages of the American free enterprise system.

Each group of students was the luncheon guest of the business or industry which it visited.

Before the tours began at 10 A. M. Wednesday, a program was held in the auditorium of the Washington C. H. High School. Highlights were talks by Supt. W. A. Smith of the city schools, Supt. W. J. Hilty of the county schools and City Manager James Parkinson.

The BIE—Business, Industry and Education—observance is the fifth in an annual series.

The tours ended at 3 P. M.

3 Ohio Men Missing In Hotel Blaze

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—A roaring fire destroyed the century-old Carver Hotel here early today and hours later police sought three Ohio guests listed as missing.

The list of missing had been cut from an original total of seven as four men reported they had escaped safely from the blazing 105-room structure. But Police Chief Mike Evan, who had been optimistic that all guests would be found safe, admitted:

"We're worried about three men. We have been unable to find any trace of them."

Chief Evan said the three Ohio guests had registered as: M. D. Pinney of Jefferson. B. J. Stotts of Dayton. M. V. Dwight of Akron.

The broadcast appeals asked each of these men to contact Warren police immediately. Police were attempting to check their families to see whether the men had reported to their homes.

Mrs. Susan Stone Milledgville, Dies

Mrs. Susan M. Stone, 92, died at 6:30 A. M. Wednesday at the Milledgville home of her daughter, Mrs. Mae Patrick.

A native of Oil Springs, Ky., she had been a resident of Fayette County for the past 14 years.

She is survived by a son, Ollie of Washington C. H.; five daughters, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Ducey Salter of Lucasville, Mrs. Graham Harris of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Floyd Day of Wenatchee, Wash., and Mrs. June Salter of Washington C. H.; 30 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9 A. M. Saturday in the Parrett Funeral Home, with Rev. Arthur George and Rev. Charles Ware in charge. Burial will be in the Stone Cemetery in Oil Springs, Ky.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Burglars Active In Williamsport

It is possible that the same burglars who chiseled open a safe at the Meriweather Motor Co. office here Monday night, and obtained about $175, operated in Williamsport, the same night, where they obtained an estimated $200 in small change.

The Deer Creek Auto Parts and a lumber yard in Williamsport were visited by the burglars, and no clues of consequence were left by the intruders. No safes were molested at either place.

Rotarians See Local Preview, 'The Magic Key'

Fine Attitude Of Young Musicians Here Recently Praised

"The Magic Key" a sound motion picture film which tells of the development of the American way of life and of the great part which advertising has played in this nation's growth industrially and otherwise, was the featured attraction at the Rotary Club's noon luncheon Tuesday at the Country Club.

This film, sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, was brought before the club by William Stoughton, newly chosen executive secretary of the Washington Chamber of Commerce. It is to be used here Wednesday in connection with BIE Day activities.

Stoughton was presented by Colin Campbell of the April program committee. When introduced he made a brief response explaining his pleasure and interest in representing the Chamber of Commerce.

THE FILM which was developed in order to create public appreciation and better understanding of the "American Way of Life" proved to be fast moving, entertaining and educational. It showed the relatively slow progress of man down through the ages and then how the free enterprise system, aided by advertising, has accelerated man's progress and has given to America the highest standard of living in the history of mankind.

President Paul Dougherty thanked Stoughton for bringing the motion sound picture before the club as a preview to BIE Day in this community.

Previous to the regular program B. M. (Mac) Marlin was called to stand and take a bow as the newest father in the club. Marlin, wearing a broad grin in honor of his new son, passed the cigars.

Attention was called to Walter Patton's birthday and he was given the usual greeting.

President Dougherty took occasion to express the club's condolences to an absent member, Robert Haigler, in the recent death of Bob's mother, Mrs. Charles Haigler.

He also congratulated the club on its attendance standing of 96.8 percent as shown in the recently received report of the district president.

CITY MANAGER James Parkinson arose to make a brief statement of thanks and appreciation of the attitude of the 1,600 young people from 153 high schools in 32 counties of Ohio who were here recently for the regional finals for instrumental and vocal solos and ensembles, sponsored by the Ohio Music Education Association.

He declared that the fine behavior of this large group of young people gave him renewed confidence in the youth of our country in this day when so many charges of juvenile delinquency are being hurled at young people. He declared that he hoped some method would be found to carry a message of gratitude to all the schools from which these young people came.

William Clift, high school music director, arose to explain that a personal letter had gone from him to all these schools expressing the very sentiments of the people here such as had been mentioned by Parkinson. The club members indicated strong approval.

THE TWO student guests from Washington High School, present at Tuesday's meeting were presented by Donald Wood, in a style which won special commendations from the club. They were David Barbet, who was projectionist in the

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:

The Rural Parents Association came into being spontaneously. It was formed originally by some fifty parents of tuition students and is now comprised of some 1200 rural parents and their neighbors.

These are straight thinking citizens who are motivated by a sincere desire to see our Fayette County children have the best possible school with the least hardship to the taxpayers among us.

None of us has political aspirations or other selfish interests, monetary or otherwise, to warp our opinions.

At the outset the steering committee agreed to conduct the Rural Parents movement on a high plane, thereby avoiding unpleasant reflection on individuals who do not feel as we do. Our methods have been designed to appeal to thinking people who can see the logic in an all-county school program.

To this end a steering committee was appointed and a survey of rural opinion in the tuition area was immediately undertaken. The statement made on the survey, with which the people were asked if they agreed, was:

"This is not a petition! It is a survey of Fayette County rural opinion to determine how many of us there are who believe we should avail ourselves of the many benefits offered by a merger of our school area with that of the Washington School District. Rural Parents Association."

There was no thought of coercion or threat in getting signatures and those who signed did so willingly. Those who did not wish to sign were thanked for their consideration of the question. There was no unpleasantness.

The first hurried survey revealed that 88 percent, or 795 of the 891 persons contacted, were in favor of merging the school area in which they lived with that of the Washington School District.

As spokesmen for these 795 rural citizens, the Rural Parents Association, on March 31, presented a formal request to the Fayette County Board of Education which asked for the transfer of the area from which tuition pupils are now attending Washington High School. This formal request was supported by a majority of the voting residents of that area.

As a follow-up to the Rural Parents formal request for transfer and out of courtesy, the following letter was sent to each individual elected member of the Fayette

County Board of Education, to which no reply was received:

Fayette County School Board Members

"Dear Sirs:
"We of the Rural Parents Association want you to know we appreciate your consideration in hearing our views on the present Fayette County School situation at your regular meeting last Saturday. The discussion generated a little heat on occasions but we can all overlook this in view of the extreme importance of the issue to yourselves, to our children and to us parents.

"We in Fayette County are all neighbors and friends and we, as a representative rural group, want to keep it that way. We respect your judgement and hope you will be completely sincere and unbiased in your deliberations.

"We rural people come to you, as our local governing body in school matters, staunchly determined to have the best possible education for our children that this county is capable of providing. Fayette County is essentially an agricultural county and a wealthy one. We deem it highly unnecessary that our children would be thrust from an excellent school into a hastily conceived, makeshift arrangement which involves scattering our elementary as well as high school students around over the county. We are promised, of course, that this is only a temporary arrangement but should the proposed Miami Trace school not become a reality this jumbled arrangement would then become our permanent school system. We are apprehensive that this may happen because it is our collective opinion that a bond issue to segregate Fayette County children will fail.

"Our children are engaged in specialized courses of study such as College Preparatory courses, home economics, industrial arts, secretarial courses, business courses, music, vocational agriculture and auto mechanics. We feel sure you would not have us sit idly by and see our children deprived of the only opportunity they will ever have to complete these specialized courses already set up and running smoothly.

"Honestly, should our children be deprived of this because some adults lost sight of the children's interests in a frenzied scramble to have a rural school for rural children only?

"Why has the building and its location become such a vital issue?

"Why, so suddenly, have the children of our relatives and neighbors in town become so undesirable as playmates and buddies?

"Why have we adults who stand for this cause been subjected to the insinuation that we are rabble rousing 'demonstrators' who conduct picket lines around our own courthouse as inferred by notices posted last Saturday? We ask you, as rural friends and neighbors, what are the reasons?

"We readily admit our sin in this school situation. Our sin was complacency. Then we were jerked awake abruptly March 19th to find our children's educational heritage threatened and we intend, with your assistance, to remain awake and very active until we can reinstate our children in an accredited high school on a permanent and not a temporary basis.

Since March 19th hundreds of dedicated man hours have been spent by members of this group in investigating the causes of our predicament and their best possible solution on a long term and enduring basis. At this writing we are reasonably certain of the cause and on the good advice of educators of undisputable intelligence and training we believe the problem can be solved by powers vested in you to reinstate our children where they rightfully belong by transferring our school area to that of the Washington School District.

"May we respectfully suggest you discuss this individually with the other members of your board on a man to man basis out in the sunshine and away from the court-house atmosphere. Such a discussion coupled with your innate honesty and in the bright sunlight will permit you to see the problem in a new light, we feel.

"Our case is a just cause and we will see it through with continuously increasing vigor and community support. We hope you can find it in your hearts to furnish your community and our youth with the constructive and speedy solution. May God be with you in your deliberations.

Respectfully yours,
Steering Committee:
Rural Parents Association."

On April 5th, a resolution was unanimously approved by County Board of Education rejecting flatly the request of the 795 members of the Rural Parents Association. Such refusal was based on three phases of an election held a year and a half ago and ignored completely the intervening happenings which have made such drastic upheavals in our county school system. It ignored completely the possibility of a change in public opinion occasioned by these upheavals. The last one third of the resolution which dealt with the Rural Parents Association's formal request is as follows:

Resolution:

"Be it resolved therefore by the Fayette County Board of Education that the request, filed with the Fayette County Board of Education by the Rural Parents Association on March 31, 1956, to transfer the 'tuition area' (five former local school districts — Union, Jasper, Marion, Concord, Green) from Miami Trace Local School District to the Washington C. H. City School District be rejected and denied; that the Fayette County Board of Education protect the territorial integrity of the County School District which is one and the same as the Miami Trace Local School District because the Miami Trace Local Board of Education has officially declared that comparable curricula will be provided for all 'tuition area' students at one location — Jeffersonville, beginning September 1956; that the original Miami Trace Local School District represents the will of the people as expressed in the merger vote in November 1954 — 64.72 percent; and again by the approval of a 5.80 mills operating levy on November 1955; likewise, a majority vote (approximately 52 percent) on the proposed Bond Issue in November 1955; and, that the Miami Trace Local School District as now constituted, embracing the additional territories of the former Bloomingburg, Jefferson, and Paint Local school districts, be held intact pending an expression of the will of the people on the question of one rural high school for rural Fayette County — the premise upon which the aforesaid districts sought admission to the Miami Trace Local School district by transfers and to which transfers there were no petitions of remonstrance, as provided by law.

"It was moved by Cloyd C. Craig and seconded by Nathaniel Tway that the foregoing resolution be adopted.

"Vote: Lightle yes; Sollars yes; Tway yes; Craig yes; Ritenour yes; Motion carried Date: April 5, 1956.
FAYETTE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION
H. B. LIGHTLE, President
HUGH B. SOLLARS, Vice-President
NATHANIEL TWAY
CLOYD C. CRAIG
CARROLL RITENOUR"

The Rural Parents Association has undertaken to assist in solving the complex Fayette County School problem by judiciously exploiting the following action:

1. To conduct an impartial survey in Fayette County to determine what the people want in the way of a general school set up.

2. To make formal requests to the administrative bodies on the basis of survey findings.

3. To explore the possibilities by discussing our Fayette County school problems with men of substantial and unquestioned knowledge and ability in school organization and the design of physical facilities.

4. To explore what has been done and is being proposed in the way of a cooperative effort among all interested administrative school bodies to solve our joint school problems.

5. To get the facts to rural Fayette County residents and expose misleading statements by direct mail bulletins and through articles in the newspaper and radio.

6. To relentlessly pursue the concept that no completely satisfactory school system can become a reality in Fayette County until an exhaustive survey by unbiased competent leaders in the field of education has been completed.

7. To thwart all efforts to expend our financial resources and family funds on an ill-advised and monumental building project based on selfishness and inadequate planning.

8. To bend our efforts toward keeping our school system "as is" without wholesale upheavals until a reorganization can be made which is based on sound planning and research.

To carry out the above aims, a countywide survey of public sentiment has been and will continue to be promoted. Formal requests have already been made to the County Board of Education and rejected. The Rural Parents Association have had as their guests and counselled with such distinguished men in the educational research field as Dr. John Herrick, head of the School Plant Division of the state maintained Bureau of Educational Research. Assisting Dr. Herrick in the discussion of Fayette County school problems was Dr. Roald Campbell, professor of education at Ohio State University, and E. O. Bolender, supervisor of the State Department of Education Vocational Agriculture Department for southwestern Ohio. These three experts agreed the best solution for Fayette County problems would be impossible without an adequate survey which it was indicated could be completed by June of 1957 if action was taken immediately. An All County survey can only be requested and paid for by the joint action of our Miami Trace School Board and the Washington School Board working cooperatively.

Based on these facts the Rural Parents Association believes our school system should be retained "as is" and that the two boards should get together and request a Fayette County Survey. We of the Rural Parents Association would be happy to go along with the recommendations made by such a reputable survey and sincerely believe the people of Fayette County would be pleased and relieved to do the same. In the meantime, our children would not suffer and minimum of reassignment of pupils could be cooperatively worked out pending a survey, bond issue passage and building program. The key to the whole solution is COOPERATION and setting aside of personal and selfish ambitions and past prejudices. Are members of our boards of education big enough for the job which can and must be done? Are our children to be the victims of prejudice, or the recipients of a fine education which is their rightful heritage?

8. To bend our efforts toward keeping our school system "as is" without wholesale upheavals until a reorganization can be made which is based on sound planning and research.

To carry out the above aims, a countywide survey of public sentiment has been and will continue to be promoted. Formal requests have already been made to the County Board of Education and rejected. The Rural Parents Association have had as their guests and counseled with such distinguished men in the educational research field as Dr. John Herriek, head of the School Plant Division of the state maintained Bureau of Educational Research. Assisting Dr. Herriek in the discussion of Fayette County school problems was Dr. Roald Campbell, professor of education at Ohio State University, and E. O. Bolender, supervisor of the State Department of Education Vocational Agriculture Department for southwestern Ohio. These three experts agreed the best solution for Fayette County problems would be impossible without an adequate survey which it was indicated could be completed by June of 1957 if action was taken immediately. An All County survey can only be requested and paid for by the joint action of our Miami Trace School Board and the Washington School Board working cooperatively.

Based on these facts the Rural Parents Association believes our school system should be retained "as is" and that the two boards should get together and request a Fayette County Survey. We of the Rural Parents Association would be happy to go along with the recommendations made by such a reputable survey and sincerely believe the people of Fayette County would be pleased and relieved to do the same. In the meantime, our children would not suffer and minimum of reassignment of pupils could be cooperatively worked out pending a survey, bond issue passage and building program. The key to the whole solution is COOPERATION and setting aside of personal and selfish ambitions and past prejudices. Are members of our boards of education big enough for the job which can and must be done? Are our children to be the victims of prejudice, or the recipients of a fine education which is their rightful heritage?

Urges People Take New Look At Tax Problems

Ferd F. Becker of the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals in the County Affairs Division, who is well known in Fayette County and has been a frequent visitor here in the last several years, recently came out with some sound advice to the people of Ohio on tax matters.

Becker, who is regarded as one of the soundest thinkers in Ohio on taxing affairs, in speaking before the joint annual convention of the County Commissioners Association of Ohio and the County Engineers' Association of this state, delivered some telling remarks regarding the need for a better, more equitable and sounder tax program in Ohio.

During his address he said:

"An intelligent tax program should be substituted for the present hodge-podge system and could to some degree curb the activities of would-be office seekers promising the voters to get something for nothing if they were elected to office. A promise or a statement of that kind from a would-be office seeker is an insult to the intelligence of any voter as they should know that each and every dollar spent by any and all types of government must first come from the pockets of the taxpayers."

This tax authority struck out boldly against the looseness of our present outmoded tax system and against the steady progress of centralized government. He is quoted as saying, "In my opinion we have lost sight of many of the basic principles and concepts that made this country great. In the mad rush and race for big things—centralized government, billion dollar industrial corporations, merged labor unions, consolidations of financial institutions—the rank and file voters have been fooled and deluded by the false claims and promises of the economic planners, do-gooders and demagogues who promise economic, social, and all other kinds of security from the womb to the tomb."

"If the time should come when General Motors or Ford have a monopoly over the automotive industry — General Electric or Westinghouse over the motors, engines and appliance industry — Mr. Reuther complete domination of all labor unions and a strong man in command of the Army and Navy, we may discover when it is too late that the government of the people, by the people and for the people has perished from the earth. It happened in ancient civilizations and more recently to Italy, Germany, Russia, Argentina and many others. If this catastrophe is to be avoided, the people of all classes, colors and creeds must come to grips fast with our economic, social and governmental problems.

"It is a m a z i n g the number of people that proudly and boastfully state that 'they are not interested in politics'. They fail to realize that government in this country today is the world's biggest business and that each and every taxpayer is not only a stockholder in that business but also has a stake in its continuance. The new generation coming on should have the benefit of being taught the fundamental principles of government as it operates within the state.

"In my opinion a course in practical government should be included in the curriculum of all public and private schools. Prior to each election both political parties emphasize the need of voting. However, it is doubtful if the mere act of casting a ballot insures the continuance of good government unless the voter has been properly educated.

"There has never been a greater need for cooperation between local governmental units than at the present time, if we are to prevent centralization at either the federal or one world level. It is a well-known maxim that in unity there is strength. The late Adolph Hitler operated on the idea that to 'divide, separate and corrupt existing governments was one sure road to dictatorship'."

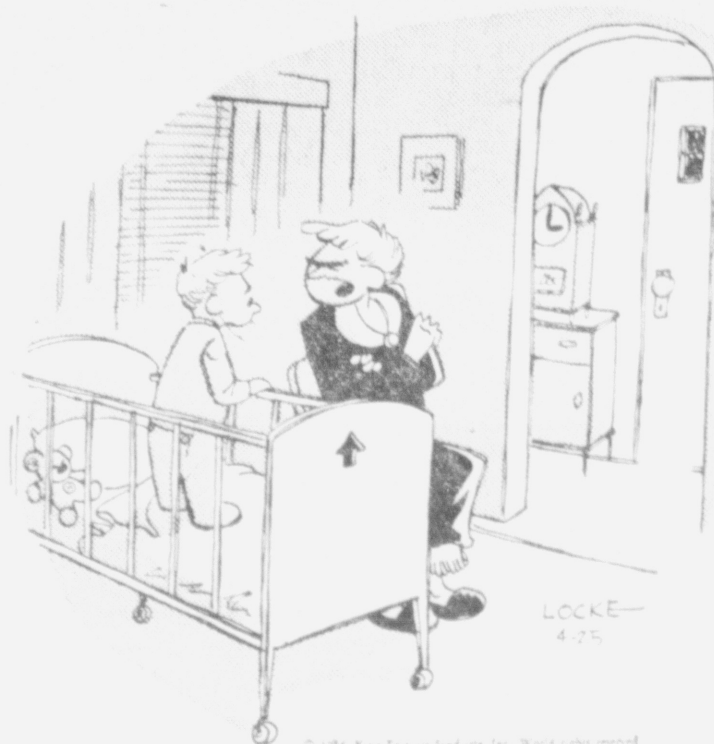

Becker declared that "If representatives of county, township, school and municipal governments were able to work out and agree upon a long-range comprehensive program, it would be an easy matter to sell the idea to the General Assembly of Ohio, and should result in sounder legislation than has been produced from the haphazard methods employed in the past."

This tax expert went into much detail in his address to point out that population is growing much faster than are actions being taken to meet the needs and demands of the increased population at the local government level in Ohio. The same is true of many other states.

Instead of meeting this situation there has been a tendency to pile more money in federal and state government and sit back comfortably and expect the bigger government, at a much greater cost of administration, to handle most of our problems for us.

It is to be hoped that the voice of Ferd Becker, and of some other thinkers who fearfully watch trends of the past 20 years, will not be lost and merely lonely "crying out in the wilderness".

Diet and Health

Pain Just Natural After Tooth Pulled

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Having a tooth extracted does not necessarily mean the end of your dental troubles.

Don't Get Panicky

In fact, as you well know, you are usually home before post-extraction pain swelling or hemorrhaging begins. However, this is no time to get panicky.

That pain, swelling or bleeding probably is perfectly natural. And a few simple procedures will usually remedy the situation.

Gauze Wadding

Generally, your dentist will give you a wadding of gauze to keep pressed firmly against the yawning excavation site to stem the flow of blood. But if you run out of gauze wads, or bleeding resumes after you've tossed them away, here's a simple way that might help stop the bleeding.

Place a moist leabag over the site and bit down hard. Keep it there for 10 or 15 minutes, or longer if necessary. This should do the trick. After the bleeding stops, don't rinse your mouth or spit excessively for the next 24 hours.

Cold Applications

Post-extraction pain usually can be relieved by frequent cold

applications to the face. Use either an ice bag or cloths dipped in cold water and wrung nearly dry.

Occasionally pain won't begin until two or three days after the tooth has been pulled. This delayed pain becomes worse after the third day and may last as long as two or three weeks.

This probably is due to a disintegrating clot and inflamed adjoining tissues. So, for persistent pain, you'd better see your dentist or doctor. He can clean out the socket and give you codeine sulfate or some other drug to relieve your pain.

Try Ice Bags

Ice bags are helpful, too, for post-extraction swelling. Apply them to your jaw for about half an hour every hour until the swelling decreases.

In most cases, I think you'll find these remedies will work.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. F.: Can fractures occur without injury?

Answer: At certain times fractures occur due to bone disease in which the bone is eaten away, so that in the normal process of walking and moving, the bone may break or fracture.

Travel Reveals True Self

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—You never really know a person until you go on a journey with him. During a two-week trip you can learn more about him than by associating with him half a lifetime in his own home town.

Travel may not necessarily broaden a person, but it is bound to show him up for what he is. It forces him to reveal his real nature as nothing else does.

Travel will make a liar out of the most honest woman. If she goes on an expensive vacation but for one reason or another has a lousy time, she'll rarely admit this fact when she gets back home.

She feels the money is never wasted so long as her neighbors envy the fun they think she had, but really didn't. This may sound like a feminine weakness. It isn't at all. It is part of the armor-plate on her strength. Women believe only fools brag about the mistakes they make.

Very few people have the strength of character to stick rigidly to a diet while on shipboard. The greatest possible test of willpower is the ability to actually start a diet while on shipboard. I have never known anyone who could or did.

This is surprising in a way, for most people aboard ship don't overeat because the food is so good—the meals seldom are as good as you can get at a good restaurant ashore—but because they are expected to. It is traditional.

The only really superior dishes aboard most liners are the desserts.

The greatest sadists among travelers are those who, when a ship is rolling in a heavy storm, stuff themselves at the table while murmuring to wan-faced fellow passengers, "seasickness is all in the mind."

Any dolt who makes an observation like that certainly has a poor sense of location.

There are two types of snobs on every tropical voyage: those who endlessly fry themselves in the sun so they can come back with a tan and those who stay out of the sun altogether, just so they can look different.

The saddest sight abroad is a group of lame-footed tourists, bullied by a guide into taking an exhaustive tour of all the local museums and monuments in the holy name of culture.

The average visitor can absorb more worthwhile human culture spending a pleasant evening in the home of an ordinary French family in Paris than he can in three days of wandering through the Louvre.

The best part of any journey isn't in remembering what strange sights you saw, but what interesting people you met along the way.

Most of the strange sights are already in books and you can look at them at home. But to meet the people you have to get out and make your own memories.

Responsibility For Bad Conditions

By George Sokolsky

What the Riesel case has thus far established is:

1. That unless there are enough police walking the beat in our big cities, our citizens are not safe and criminals can get away with murder;

2. That labor racketeering remains a fact and that the responsibility for cleaning labor's house rests upon the leadership and the rank and file of the labor unions. It will be better for the labor unions to do the job themselves rather than to wait for rigid legislation.

With 15,000,000 of the American labor force of about 66,000,000 in organized unions, the power and responsibility of these unions exceeds anything that was anticipated by the labor leaders themselves. Although labor union management is becoming a career in the United States, attracting to itself men of education and culture, it is also true that many of the top leadership have emerged to their positions by brawn and fists and even brass knuckles, while others rose through communist support in the days of the united front.

The rank and file, the dues-paying members, are the kind of Americans one finds in churches, in PTA's, in American Legion Posts. They do not settle arguments by throwing sulphuric acid in their opponents' eyes or by taking them for a ride. They do not use a longshoreman's hook to win an election. When a labor leader uses rough-house methods to achieve ends, he hardly ever lets his union members in on the sport; he hires goons for that purpose and that brings the racketeer into the labor union. It also makes the uneducated, unreported, enormous treasuries of the unions vulnerable to racketeering raids.

Those who believe that personality attacks on individual labor leaders will solve any problems are living in the dim and distant past. For better or for worse, the American form of labor organization is not only here to stay but it will proliferate. The real question is, will it assume public responsibility equal to its social importance and political power? Unless the unions assume such responsibility voluntarily, the law is bound to intervene. It is not in the public interest that racketeers, ex-convicts or other disorderly individuals should head labor unions or should be in control of their treasuries. It is to nobody's advantage that welfare funds should be in the hands of improper persons, wholly uncontrolled by state insurance boards.

To the public, it would seem that now that the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are united and when jurisdictional disputes between the two federations ought not to exist, that the labor leadership might subside to constructive work. While it is true that at the time this article is written, nothing has been accomplished in the effort to track down the acid-thrower in the Riesel case, and while it is also true that an attempt has been made to find a diversionary conclusion, there is little doubt in my mind that Victor Riesel was being punished because he was providing a grand jury with such information as he possessed. I have known this man intimately since he stated his journalistic career on the Socialist "New Leader." Like all specialists, Riesel has been fanatical and argumentative. Had he not believed in his cause, he could have found easier and pleasanter ways of earning a living. He might have specialized in reporting about the love affairs, true and press-agented, of movie actresses and other celebrities. He chose his cause and his forum and took his risks. He managed to make readable an unpopular and unpleasant subject. He fought for clean trade unionism and made a career of it. I have known enough of Riesel's private affairs to be certain that he did not use his knowledge for other than proper purposes.

It would be of great value to find one labor leader who would pick up the fight against the racketeers in American trade unionism—just one. So far, they have all been silent, perhaps fearing the acid-thrower. But such silence can only force the public official to take up the challenge in response not only to public demand but to the sense of shame which must exist among the rank and file of the American worker. Why is it that the labor movement in Great Britain has not become subject to racketeering? There trade union leadership is an accepted profession.

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Having a tooth extracted does not necessarily mean the end of your dental troubles.

Don't Get Panicky

In fact, as you well know, you are usually home before post-extraction pain swelling or hemorrhaging begins. However, this is no time to get panicky.

That pain, swelling or bleeding probably is perfectly natural. And a few simple procedures will usually remedy the situation.

Gauze Wadding

Generally, your dentist will give you a wadding of gauze to keep pressed firmly against the yawning excavation site to stem the flow of blood. But if you run out of gauze wads, or bleeding resumes after you've tossed them away, here's a simple way that might help stop the bleeding.

Place a moist teabag over the site and bit down hard. Keep it there for 10 or 15 minutes, or longer if necessary. This should do the trick. After the bleeding stops, don't rinse your mouth or spit excessively for the next 24 hours.

Cold Applications

Post-extraction pain usually can be relieved by frequent cold

applications to the face. Use either an ice bag or cloths dipped in cold water and wrung nearly dry.

Occasionally pain won't begin until two or three days after the tooth has been pulled. This delayed pain becomes worse after the third day and may last as long as two or three weeks.

This probably is due to a disintegrating clot and inflamed adjoining tissues. So, for persistent pain, you'd better see your dentist or doctor. He can clean out the socket and give you codeine sulfate or some other drug to relieve your pain.

Try Ice Bags

Ice bags are helpful, too, for post-extraction swelling. Apply them to your jaw for about half an hour every hour until the swelling decreases.

In most cases, I think you'll find these remedies will work.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. F.: Can fractures occur without injury?

Answer: At certain times fractures occur due to bone disease in which the bone is eaten away, so that in the normal process of walking and moving, the bone may break or fracture.

Lamme Thompson Wedding Vows Read Saturday

Miss Barbara E. Lamme, daughter of Mr. Clarence Lamme of near Bellbrook, and the late Mrs. Lamme, and Mr. Vernon Eugene Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, of near Sabina, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon, in the Bellbrook Methodist Church.

Rev. Benjamin T. Edwards, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony before a pretty background of palms and vases of mixed spring flowers, and a program of nuptial music preceding the service was provided by Mrs. Donald Middleton of Xenia, pianist, and Mrs. Ralph Koogler of Spring Valley, vocalist. Selections included "Because," "I Love You Truly," "Through The Years," "Why Do I Love You," "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white lace and tulle over satin fashioned with a very full skirt and fitted bodice with a scoop neckline. The tulle overskirt was appliqued with flowers cut from lace and embroidered with pearls with a similar trim used at the neckline. Her fingertip length veil fell from a satin cap also adorned with tiny pearls, and she wore a single strand pearl necklace which was a gift from the bridegroom. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of white carnations trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Leo Hartman of Xenia, cousin of the bride, was matron of at two small tables centered with beautiful arrangements of sweet peas in pastel shades for the serving of a tempting dessert course, and she was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Frank S. Jackson.

honor and wore an aqua nylon chiffon ballerina length gown. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Lamme, sister of the bride, who wore lavender nylon, and Miss Wilma Jean Lamme of Xenia, a cousin, who was in pink nylon. All the attendants carried colonial bouquets corresponding to their gowns and they wore pearl necklaces and earrings which were gifts of the bride. Headresses matching their gowns were trimmed with lilies of the valley.

The flower girl was Rebecca Stillwell of Xenia, niece of the bride, who wore a frock of maize dotted nylon and net over taffeta and carried a pretty basket of yellow jonquils and purple and white hyacinths.

Mr. Russell Stewart of Sabina served as best man, and ushers were Mr. Leo Hartman of Xenia, and Mr. Max Hewitt of Bloomington.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue dress with navy blue and white accessories and a corsage of gold carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms at the Presbyterian Church where pink and white predominated in the color scheme and a three layer wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom was served with other refreshments to the group which gathered to extend best wishes to the bridal couple. Assisting at the reception were relatives of the bride, Mrs. Ennis Stillwell of Xenia, a sister; Mrs. Raymond Lamme of Findlay, a sister-in-law, and Mrs. Eugene Soddors of Xenia, a cousin.

When Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing a two piece pink silk dress with a navy blue duster and pink and white accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 188 West Locust Street, Wilmington.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of Bellbrook High School. Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Wayne Township High School and served two years in the Army. He is now employed by the Clinton County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association.

Wedding guests were invited from Sabina, Wilmington, Washington C. H., Peebles, Hillsboro, Dayton, Findlay, Xenia, Bellbrook, Centerville, Bloomington and Fairborn.

BPO Does Founder's Day Is Celebrated

The anniversary party of the BPO Does was combined with the regular meeting in the Elks Lodge room Tuesday and was highlighted with a sumptuous covered dish dinner, which included members, husbands and guests numbering fifty.

The dinner tables were decorated in lodge colors with spring flowers, using jonquils and iris, softly lighted with tapers.

Mrs. C. S. Kelley was toastmistress and presented the Exalted Ruler of the Elks Lodge, Samuel Douds, Mrs. Charles Fults, Mrs. Heber Roe and Mrs. Leo Fisher, past residents of the Does in short talks.

Mrs. Darrell Williams, president of the Does, added remarks to the summaries given by the past presidents of the work accomplished by bers, the advisor, Mrs. John Case, present and one guest, Miss Mabel Briggs, included.

The vice chairman, Mrs. Mary Chinn, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. Albert Fackler offered the opening prayer.

Mrs. Ted Yoakum was in charge of the devotional period including Scripture reading from First Corinthians, a poem, entitled "As Unto Him" and closed with prayer.

The regular reports and those of standing committees were heard and approved, and summer clothing to be sent to Mathers School, in South Carolina was turned into the Missionary chairman, Mrs. Calvin Oty.

The vice chairman appointed Mrs. Harold Shockey, chairman, Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. Albert Fackler, as the nominating committee to choose officers for the coming year, to be elected at the May meeting.

Mrs. Robert Hurtt was program chairman and used as her topic "Temperance", as related to the church, and illustrated her interesting talk with pictures, also leading in an open discussion on the subject.

Miss Mabel Briggs offered prayer to close the meeting and Mrs. Ault was assisted by Mrs. Fackler in the serving of a seasonal refreshment course.

Spring Recital Is Presented By Piano Students

Miss Janice Gillen, a high school pupil and a piano student of Mrs. Robert E. Willis, charmingly prefaced each number on the annual spring recital which was largely attended at the First Baptist Church Tuesday evening.

The setting for the program was softly candlelighted with flowers which created a lovely spring time atmosphere.

Miss Gillen read the poem "April Rain", by Loveman, and followed with the comment, "The history of music is a human story. It cannot relate how man first became conscious of the beauty of sound, but it picks up the thread and tells how we learn to love music."

The progress and development of students was most evident in the numbers presented by the pupils appearing on the diversified program from the tiniest beginner to the advanced student.

The entire group appeared in three vocal numbers "There's Music In The Air", "Old Black Joe" and "My Old Kentucky Home", and included in ensemble work in piano selections were a duet by Hannah Case and Kathryn Sagar.

Solo numbers were by Linda Whiteside, George Coffman, Jimmie Wade, Billy Baer, Electa Brubaker, Richard Wade, Stephen Yerian, Jenny Junk, Robert Brubaker, Gary Ware, Richard Craig, Pamela Payton, Stephen Lodwick, David Woodmansee, Gary Brownson, Martha Rhoad, Joyce Sander-son, Marvin Carr, Karen Woodmansee, Alice Craig, Hannah Case, Damon Baker and Kathryn Sagar.

Miss Jane Whiteside and Miss Karen Ware also assisted Mrs. Willis as ushers during the evening.

Mr. Clarence Taylor of Long Beach, California, arrived Tuesday for a week's visit with his sisters, Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, Mrs. James H. McWilliams and their families.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Nauss are just home from a three months tour. Leaving New Orleans on a freighter, they landed first at Palermo, Sicily, Leghorn, Italy, where they visited with T. S. Donald Bandy, who is stationed there with the armed forces, on to Genoa, Venice, and Trieste, Italy. Their next stop was Rejeka, Yugoslavia, Athens, Greece and to Seville, Spain, where they returned to Havana, Cuba, to spend a few days before completing their trip to New Orleans.

Mrs. Grani Morgan and Mrs. John Morgan were in Sabina, Tuesday to attend the Wilmington District Methodist Conference held in the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Roy Pfeifer has returned from a six weeks stay in Coco Beach and Melbourne, Florida. She was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Funderburg and family in Coco Beach and of friends in Melbourne.

The Does since its founding four years ago.

Later the brief business session presided over by Mrs. Williams included the usual reports and the announcing of the date of May 16 for the Mother-Daughter banquet at the Washington Country Club given by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Fults.

The meeting was adjourned according to the ritual and a social hour followed.

The committee in charge of the party was Mrs. C. S. Kelley, chairman, Mrs. John O'Connor, Mrs. O. L. Ohnstad, Mrs. Verne Custis, Miss Marian Osborn, Mrs. Mary Evelyn McCoy, and Mrs. Herbert E. Wilsn.

Lamme Thompson Wedding Vows Read Saturday

Miss Barbara E. Lamme, daughter of Mr. Clarence Lamme of near Bellbrook, and the late Mrs. Lamme, and Mr. Vernon Eugene Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, of near Sabina, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon, in the Bellbrook Methodist Church.

Rev. Benjamin T. Edwards, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony before a pretty background of palms and vases of mixed spring flowers, and a program of nuptial music preceding the service was provided by Mrs. Donald Middleton of Xenia, pianist, and Mrs. Ralph Koogler of Spring Valley, vocalist. Selections included "Because," "I Love You Truly," "Through The Years," "Why Do I Love You," "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white lace and tulle over satin fashioned with a very full skirt and fitted bodice with a scoop neckline. The tulle overskirt was appliqued with flowers cut from lace and embroidered with pearls with a similar trim used at the neckline. Her fingertip length veil fell from a satin cap also adorned with tiny pearls, and she wore a single strand pearl necklace which was a gift from the bridegroom. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of white carnations trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Leo Hartman of Xenia, cousin of the bride, was matron of

at two small tables centered with beautiful arrangements of sweet peas in pastel shades for the serving of a tempting dessert course, and she was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Frank S. Jackson.

honor and wore an aqua nylon chiffon ballerina length gown. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Lamme, sister of the bride, who wore lavender nylon, and Miss Wilma Jean Lamme of Xenia, a cousin, who was in pink nylon. All the attendants carried colonial bouquets corresponding to their gowns and they wore pearl necklaces and earrings which were gifts of the bride. Headdresses matching their gowns were trimmed with lilies of the valley.

The flower girl was Rebecca Stillwell of Xenia, niece of the bride, who wore a frock of maize dotted nylon and net over taffeta and carried a pretty basket of yellow jonquils and purple and white hyacinths.

Mr. Russell Stewart of Sabina served as best man, and ushers were Mr. Leo Hartman of Xenia, and Mr. Max Hewitt of Bloomington.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue dress with navy blue and white accessories and a corsage of gold carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms at the Presbyterian Church where pink and white predominated in the color scheme and a three layer wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom was served with other refreshments to the group which gathered to extend best wishes to the bridal couple. Assisting at the reception were relatives of the bride, Mrs. Ennis Stillwell of Xenia, a sister; Mrs. Raymond Lamme of Findlay, a sister-in-law, and Mrs. Eugene Soddors of Xenia, a cousin.

When Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing a two piece pink silk dress with a navy blue duster and pink and white accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 188 West Locust Street, Wilmington.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of Bellbrook High School. Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Wayne Township High School and served two years in the Army. He is now employed by the Clinton County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association.

Wedding guests were invited from Sabina, Wilmington, Washington C. H., Peebles, Hillsboro, Dayton, Findlay, Xenia, Bellbrook, Centerville, Bloomington and Fairborn.

Jeff Senior Dinner Slated

Fund-Raising Affair To Be Held Sunday

Jeffersonville High School's senior dinner will be next Sunday.

The dinner, to be served in the Jeff gym from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M., will offer guests their choice of ham or chicken, plus all the fixings for either.

The affair is open to the public, with tickets on sale by members of the senior class. Tickets will also be on sale at the door, though the senior class advisor, Mrs. Wayne Dowler, points out that planning will be simplified if guests purchase their tickets before hand.

The dinner is to be prepared and served by the mothers of the seniors. Mrs. Donald Hopkins is chairman of the group of mothers.

Purpose of the big senior class event is to raise money to finance the traditional senior trip. Every year after graduation, the seniors set out for a tour of points of interest hundreds of miles distant.

This year, the seniors will make a whirlwind tour of three eastern cities in five days. The boys and girls and their chaperones will visit New York City, Atlantic City and Washington D. C.

The dinner is the second the Jeff seniors have held. The first was last fall.

Cpl. Samuel Rodgers On Field Maneuvers

Marine Cpl. Samuel V. Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rodgers of 719 Sycamore Street, participated in a desert field training exercise recently at Twentynine Palms, Calif.

More than 1,000 men of the 1st Marine Division's 1st Regiment went to the Marine Corps Training Center to take part in the exercise.

Unlike regular field exercises, desert warfare demands speed and mobility due to the lack of natural cover.

Tanks and helicopters were used in support of the assault force.

Cheery Blue Birds Plant Tree at Hospital Here

A tree grows today on the west side of the front lawn of Memorial Hospital. . . and 18 girls, all members of the Cheery Blue Bird group, will be watching it for years to come.

It is just a spindly red bud switch now, but through the years it will grow and become beautiful and bring joy to others just as will the little girls who planted it there Tuesday afternoon.

The tree planting ceremony was a part of the Cheery Blue Birds' observance of Arbor Day; it also was a part of their community service.

The backdrop for the tree planting had been woven during the group's meetings for several weeks; the actual planting was a sort of learning-by-doing climax to the simple lessons in nature study that are a part of the Blue Bird creed.

The actual work of the planting had been done, of course, by grown-ups. But, the Blue Birds gathered around to see their tree set in the earth where it will take root and grow and brighten the lives of patients in the hospital in the years to come.

DURING the program at the planting, Mrs. Harold Allen, one of the group's co-leaders, read the poem, "Trees," and an article that told how friendship is planted when a tree is planted.

In planting the tree for the community to enjoy, the little Blue Birds expressed their appreciation of the things the community has done for them.

At the tree planting with the girls were the other co-leader, Mrs. Jerry Grundies; two of sponsors Mrs. Marvin Rossmann and Mrs. Hugh Payton, and Miss Christine Evans, the hospital administrator. The Blue Birds gathered at the Cherry Hill School, where they all go, right after classes were dismissed Tuesday afternoon. They had a short meeting and then they piled into cars with their leaders and sponsors to go to the hospital.

In the group were Judy Allen, Rita Bondurant, Carol Cahall, Sharon Donohoe, Claudia Reser, Marjorie Rossmann, Mary Jo Strong, Cindy Thomas, Linda Whiteside, Patty Wilson, Sharon Christman, Colleen Self, Brenda Looker, Diane White, Cindy Grundies, Chris Kerns, Patty Patrick and Pam Payton. Two of the girls were unable to go along, Lana Jamison and Margaret Fisher.

Lions Lose, 6-1, To Circleville

Leaky WHS Defeat
Factor In Defeat

The Lions of WHS were handed a convincing 6 to 1 defeat in a South Central Ohio League baseball game on their own lot on Circle Avenue Tuesday afternoon by the Tigers from Circleville.

The Tigers took advantage of a leaky WHS defense, but the inability of the Lions to hit safely was the basic cause of their defeat.

Fred Belles got the only hit off McConnell in the sixth inning, and it came to naught when he was left stranded.

Larry Anderson scored the only WHS tally in the fifth, an unearned run, when he drew a base on balls. McConnell chalked up 11 strikeouts.

Bob Carver turned in a creditable enough pitching performance for the Lions, holding the Tigers to 7 hits and fanning 6, but the Circleville batters combined those bingles with errors to get 6 runners across the plate.

Although the Lions were soundly beaten, the Lions at no time fell apart. The Tigers were able to score no more than 2 runs in any inning.

The visitors got their first run in the opening frame and then added 2 in the third. After being held scoreless for two innings they broke loose with another in the sixth and then put the game on ice with 2 more in the eighth.

Fishing Here Only So-so, but To Get Better

Although the fishing hereabouts has been only so-so for the last few days—if reports tell the story accurately—those dyed-in-the-wool anglers have donned their heavy coats and gone out to see for themselves.

The water has been a bit roily, although not too high. Dave Krupla, the county's new game protector, said after checking the streams.

He said he has counted "about 50" fishermen recently wetting their lines—but not much more.

What are they fishing for? Well, just about anything that will take their bait.

Minnows and worms have been the most common lures, although Krupla said he found some anglers going after bass with plugs and spinners.

THE GAME protector noted that there are no restrictions on fishing now and that the approaching spawning time will put no crimp in the fishing, unless they are imposed voluntarily by the individuals.

Although there is no hunting now, indications are that there will be some good sport afield come next fall and the open season.

Krupla said he had seen a lot of pheasants as he roamed the countryside to go acquainted with his new territory. He said he also had seen "quite a few" quail and some Hungarian partridge.

But, getting back to the sport of the day—fishing—the game protector expressed the belief that there would be some good fishing over the coming weekend, provided there is no heavy rain.

Lion Track Team Wins Here

WHS Boys Whip Circleville, London Teams

The Washington C. H. Lions scored a handy win over the London and Circleville trackmen Tuesday afternoon to gain sweet revenge for their loss just five days ago on the same Gardner Park track.

WINNING THE 100-YARD DASH by four inches and a sliver of a second, the Lions' Bob Hunter (right) just edges London's Carter (to his left, in dark uniform). Hunter won the dash in 10.4 seconds as eager spectators leaned onto the track to watch the finish. Third, after Hunter and Carter, was the Lions' Roney Foster (hidden by Hunter.) Fourth place was grabbed by London's Harris (second from left.)

WHS Boys Whip
Circleville,
London Teams

The Washington C. H. Lions scored a handy win over the London and Circleville trackmen Tuesday afternoon to gain sweet revenge for their loss just five days ago on the same Gardner Park track.

The Lions took eight firsts (including one tie for a first), plus five seconds, six thirds and three fourths for a total of 69 points. Second-place London took 50 points and Circleville, 29.

In last week's triangular meet, London edged the Lions 50 to 46½. But Hillsboro carried off top honors in that meet with 51½ points.

Top point honors for the Lions were carried off by Bob Hunter, who took firsts in the 100- and 220-yard dashes and in the broad jump.

Hunter also ran a strong leg in the Lions' half-mile relay team which was just nipped by London's relaymen. That brought his point total for the afternoon to 15½.

DAVID LEE took the lead in the 120-yard high hurdles, tied for first in the high jump, ran a lap for the winning mile relay team and took a third in the 440-yard dash. His point total: 11½.

Dan Schlachter loomed large in the field events for the Lions, winning the shot put and placing second in the discus for a total of 8 points.

Other firsts were garnered for Washington C. H. by Dan Miller in the pole vault and Lee, Terry Dray, Phil Johnson and Roger McLean in the mile relay.

Point winners were Hunter, Lee, Schlachter, Miller (5), Eldon Brown (5), Raney Foster (4½), McLean (4), Ronnie Kelley (4), Roger Shaw (2½), Johnson (2½), Bob Burke (1½), Dray (1½), Floyd Southward (1), Wayne Rehm (¾) and John Bainter (¾).

120-yard high hurdles (17.5 secs.)—Lee (W), Long (L), Pancher (C) and Southward (W).

100-yard dash (23.4 secs.)—Hunter (W), Carter (L), Foster (W) and Harris (L).

Mile run (5:01.2 mins.)—Johnson (C), Ferguson (L), Kelley (W) and Garner (C).

Half-mile relay (1:37.5 mins.)—London and Washington C. H.

Gaston Quitting
Middletown Post

MIDDLETOWN — John D. Blackford, superintendent of Middletown schools, said yesterday that Elver Gaston will not be retained next year as Lemon-Monroe basketball coach.

Gaston said he will seek another

Jeffersonville Tigers Win Baseball Crown

Hard-slinging John Wright went to the mound at Bloomingburg Tuesday afternoon and pitched the Jeffersonville High School Tigers into the Fayette County High School baseball championship.

Wright struck out 16 Bulldogs, gave up only 3 hits and granted 2 bases on balls as the Tigers romped over the Bloomingburg squad, 14-2, to win the crown.

In addition to his performance on the mound, Wright added his own cause by banging out two scorching base hits and scoring two runs.

Wright had the backing of a red-hot Jeffersonville nine that (excluding his own performance) piled up 12 runs on 10 hits to help him on to the victory.

Bloomingburg was hampered by no less than 10 costly errors. The Bulldogs started to click in the sixth inning and scored their two runs then, but the curtain was already down.

Undefeated in County play, the victory clinched the county pennant for the Tigers. Although they face basketball job. He said "this was the first losing season I ever had." His team won 3 games and lost 13 last year.

Umpire Sporting Eyeglasses Now

KANSAS CITY — American League Umpire Frank Umont patrolled his second base domain yesterday wearing glasses and became the first major league umpire ever to work a game so equipped.

"I just don't think I'll say anything," said the 37-year-old umpire when questioned.

Charley Berry, veteran American League man in blue who also worked in the Kansas City-Detroit game, did the explaining:

"It's as simple as this. Frank needed a slight correction for his left eye."

Tug Wilson Plans Parley At OSU

COLUMBUS — Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson is scheduled to meet today with Ohio State University President Howard L. Bevis and faculty representative Dr. Wendell Postle.

Purpose of the meeting was not announced, but Wilson has been investigating the Buckeye football picture for several months. His visit today has given rise to the belief that the commissioner's decision on whether OSU has been violating athletic regulations may not be far off.

Savage Underdog In Joseph Fight

NEW ORLEANS — Mauling Milo Savage, stout-punching second-ranked middleweight from Salt Lake City, finds himself a surprising underdog tonight to young Charley Joseph of New Orleans.

Savage, 29, packs one of the most feared right hands in the middleweight ranks, although he shows only 19 knockouts in 76 fights. But he had victories over tough Holly Mims and Moses Ward last year and a 10-round draw with Argentina's Eduardo Lausse this year.

The Record-Herald Wednesday Apr. 25 1956 9
Washington C. H. Ohio

According to a late report from Division of Wildlife fisheries workers, the muskys in Rocky Fork Lake are continuing to put on amazing growth and they are showing up in increasing numbers.

On April 6 a small test net was placed in the lake and left overnight. The following morning when the net was raised it contained 13 muskys running from 30 to 35½ inches long. In addition to the muskys the net also contained 16 large-mouth bass ranging from 14 to 16½ inches in length, a large number of crappies and bluegills and also some bluegills and redear sunfish.

Fisheries technicians are hopeful the muskys will spawn and reproduce this year although some feel they have a better chance of spawning successfully next year.

In any event, everyone connected with the project admit with enthusiasm that the muskys in Rocky Fork have grown phenomenally. From several inches long at the time of stocking to 35½ inches in three years time is good growth in any body of water. Availability of an abundance of the right kind of food apparently has been the answer.

Not all the muskys caught at Rocky Fork have been taken in test nets either. Sometime around the first of April a fisherman hooked and landed a 37-inch musky weighing 15 pounds. This shows it is no longer necessary to travel many miles into the north country to catch muskys. We have them here in Ohio.

ADD UP THE COST of keeping your present car in top condition this year—new tires—engine work—paint—battery—muffler—brake linings, etc. Then talk to your Plymouth dealer about his modern finance plan; find out how it may actually cost you less money to drive home in a '56 Plymouth—the only all-new car in the low-price three.

Compare what your dollar buys... and you'll switch to Plymouth, too!

More size, more beauty, more that's new—no wonder there's been a 118% increase in the number of people who switched to Plymouth!

We bet you'll join the "big switch" when you learn all about the wonderful values and deals we Plymouth dealers are offering this spring.

Look what we did for the couple above! They owned a 1953 model of another low-price car—and were planning to buy the same make again. But when they saw how much bigger and handsomer and newer Plymouth is... they decided Plymouth was the car... and now was the time

So come see what the shouting's about. Try Plymouth's magical Push-Button Driving (not found on any other low-price car), a positive, mechanical control. Sample Plymouth's new 200-hp Hy-Fire V-8. Examine Plymouth's exclusive safety features. You'll switch to Plymouth, too!

PLYMOUTH costs less

Names of the 785 winners in Plymouth's $150,000 Lucky Motor Number Sweepstakes are on display now at your Plymouth dealer's.

From the day you buy it...through all the years you own it...you'll spend less on a Plymouth. That's one reason more Plymouths are used as taxis than all other cars combined.

 Means the end of World War II housing benefits, the unpleasant fact must be faced that there is a strong indication that the congress may not extend this patriotic program beyond its expiration date of July 25th, 1957.
 If the 3 year extension recommended by NAHB and the major veterans groups is denied the program will die on the above date.
 We have a few homes that will G. I. and if you are anticipating purchasing a home under G. I. rights don't wait too long if you are in the World War II group.

Robert Walker Speaks To Local Republicans

Portsmouth Business
Man, Is 6th District
Congress Candidate

A group of approximately 50 Fayette County Republican committee-men and other active party workers, including both women and men, were entertained Tuesday evening at a dinner in the banquet room of the Hotel Washington by Robert P. Walker, of Portsmouth, candidate at the May 8 primary election for the Republican nomination for Congress in this sixth Ohio district which includes Fayette County.

Walker was accompanied to this city by Mrs. Walker who is assisting her husband in his campaign work.

Reports from the meeting by those attending indicated that Walker made an excellent impression on those who heard him give his "getting acquainted" talk in this community. He had a pleasant and friendly personality.

Walker is export sales manager and credit manager for the Williams Manufacturing Company at Portsmouth, prominent in the shoe industry and is a citizen of very high standing in his home county. He has served as mayor and also city councilman in Portsmouth.

He is 42 years of age, a graduate of Ohio University, a lieutenant governor of Kiwanis and in World War II was identified with the U. S. Navy in service, also has been connected with the Ohio National Guard.

In his brief talk to those assembled at the dinner here he won admiration for his common sense approach, without oratorical effort, to the problems of his candidacy and to the issues to be faced by the U. S. Congress. He reviewed his own background and training.

In relating some of his experiences in connection with a business trip to China, just before it fell to Communists, he spoke of how he had learned from China had been taken over by trained Communist workers who had promised Chinese workers that the nation's wealth would be divided and they each be given a farm. Later the Communist government, finding that the experiment was a failure, took back the land and made everyone work for the government.

The speaker then aptly and effectively declared that many people in this nation were misled with similar promises in the days of the New Deal and so-called Fair Deal and were sold on the idea of getting "something for nothing" without sober consideration of what this would do to jeopardize sound government in the future.

Walker gave assurance to Republican leaders here that every county in this sixth district would receive equal official consideration in all matters, if he is nominated and elected to Congress. He also indicated that he would be back in this community at some early future date when he hoped to be able to meet many people throughout the county.

What Would You Do?

The same woman, asked if re-testing wouldn't be a good idea, so that the accidents wouldn't happen in the first place, said that it "sounds good" but that it was neither fair nor feasible.

Stiffer initial testing was a common suggestion. "Even though it's been tightened up, it's still pretty easy to get a license," said a contracting employee. He said, "I think they ought to have some sort of a license grading system—you know, if you had an accident, you'd be bumped a grade, until finally you didn't have a license any more."

A tight clamp-down on younger drivers was advocated by a barber. "They cause the biggest share of the accidents and they need the licenses the least—why don't they (police and judges, presumably) feel freer about suspending a youngster when he gets in trouble?"

Teenagers themselves were of a sharply varying opinion. "I know that we've got more than our share of trouble," said a Washington C. H. High School sophomore girl, "but I think we're taking more than our share of the blame, too. It's only a few of us and a lot of us are pretty good drivers."

A retired man, who said he had been driving for "oh, more years than I can remember," had what may be the last word to offer on the situation:

"There are just too blame many cars on the road. . . and you can quote me!"

Jeff FHA-FFA Banquet Set IFYE Student To Be Speaker

The Future Homemakers and the Future Farmers of Jeffersonville today were putting the finishing touches on plans for their annual FHA-FFA banquet that is to be held in the school gymnasium Thursday evening.

Miss Ann Sayre

If everything goes according to plan, the 37 Future Homemakers and 32 Future Farmers will sit down at the banquet tables at 7:30 o'clock.

The boys and girls are to buy the food themselves and prepare it themselves. Then, they are to turn the affairs of the kitchen over to Mrs. Roy Love, one of the school cooks.

Girls taking the home economics course are to serve the banquet.

Of course, the whole affair is under the supervision of Miss Phyllis Grimme, the home economics teacher, and H. H. Coffey, the vocational agriculture teacher, and the advisors of the two student groups.

A complete after-dinner program has been arranged, but the featured speaker of the evening is to be Miss Ann Sayre, Shelby County farm girl, senior at Ohio State University and a foreign exchange student.

MISS SAYRE spent four months in Scotland last year, living with 11 different families on all types of farms.

The International Farm Youth Exchange is a goodwill program under which farm youth spend time in other countries. They live with the farm families of the foreign lands as members of those families; the theory is that by living in the home, they get to know and understand each other better and, thus, develop closer relations and friendships between the countries.

Miss Sayre, who is majoring in social studies and English in education, may show slides of some of the pictures she took while living in Scotland to illustrate her talk to the FHA and FFA gathering.

Home in West Union, are incomplete, pending the arrival of his son Frank from Greenland.

Band Mothers Organize at Bloomingtonburg

There's a brand new Band Mother's Club in Bloomingtonburg today, as a result of an organizational meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Bloomingtonburg School.

Helping the Bloomingtonburg School Band and Mrs. Paul Elliott, Band Director, to do their job better is the first aim of the organization. In a statement made at the organizational meeting, officials of the club said they felt that the community should be "vitaly interested in a project" of this sort.

Mrs. Carl McCoy was named president of the new group. Other officers are Mrs. John Cannon, vice president; Mrs. Robert Huff, secretary; Mrs. Lewis Evans, treasurer and Mrs. Joe Stultz, news reporter.

A band party, honoring the director and the band, was tentatively planned for May 11, following the Band Festival. A similar party had been in the planning stages at the Bloomingtonburg PTO, and a PTO-appointed committee will probably take over arrangements of the party for the band club.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Lewis Evans, Mrs. John Cannon and Mrs. Jess Schlichter. The committee said they hoped to have the cooperation of the whole group in planning the affair.

Driver Found; Left Accident

Another Driver
Facing Two Charges

When the driver of a motor car, or driveway truck, side swiped Virgil Benson's automobile parked on East Market Street early Tuesday morning and kept going, officers took up the search for the truck.

Tuesday State Highway Patrolman R. W. Hackmeyer checked a driveway truck parked at a restaurant and found red paint on it and collision marks.

The driver told him, he reported, that he was not the one who was driving the truck at the time of the accident; so the other driver was notified to appear.

He was Elmer J. Ferguson, 25, of Cincinnati and when he showed up he was taken into custody until his hearing could be held in Municipal Court on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

The Benson car was damaged considerably.

Other arrests Tuesday included: Dossie L. Burgess, Elyria, who was charged with failure to stop for a stop sign.

Patrolman Hackmeyer Tuesday afternoon arrested Harold Thompson of Bloomingtonburg on a charge of driving 35 miles an hour. When Thompson decided he would not go with the officer, it was necessary to use force. A charge of resisting an officer was filed against him. His hearing on both charges will be on May 11. Bond of $135 was posted.

BIG EXPANSION

MIDDLETOWN — The city limits are to be expanded to take in 2,706 acres additional in suburbs. Armo Park, Wildwood Golf Course and 1,000 acres of undeveloped land.

Tire Blows Out And Car Wrecked

When a front tire blew out as he was approaching the Paint Creek Bridge on Route 70 about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Washington C. H. at 10 P. M. Tuesday, Gwinn F. Boney of Cincinnati and several others in his car escaped serious injury when the car crashed into a guard rail and was damaged considerably.

The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolman W. R. Hackmeyer.

Mrs. Kitchen Dies At Home In City

Mrs. Esther Kitchen, 77, died at 6:30 P. M. Tuesday at her home, 441 East Street. She had been ill for a year and a half.

A native of West Lancaster in Fayette County, she was the daughter of the late Lee and Julia Ann Rankin and the sister of the late Judge Harry Rankin.

She lived for 25 years near Pitchin in Clarke County, returning to Fayette County to live in Washington C. H. in 1933.

She was a member of the Grace Methodist Church and of the In His Service Sunday School Class of that church.

She is survived by her husband,

William Kitchen, and a nephew, Richard Rankin, both of Washington C. H.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Friday at the Gerstner Funeral Home with Rev. L. J. Poe in charge. Burial will be in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call after 7 P. M. Wednesday at the late residence.

HELD FOR THEFT

LONDON — William Albert Morrell, 31, Clarks Mills, Pa., is being held for theft of a car here. Deputy Sheriff Bob Henry made the arrest when he saw the Madison County car parked along Route 42 near Johnsville, and saw Morrell walking in a nearby woods.

No Time Change On B&O Road Here

Although several time changes of passenger trains will become effective on the main line of the B. & O. Railroad, Sunday, no change will be made in connection with the two passenger trains the B. & O. runs through this city.

East bound No. 238 will continue to leave at 3:15 P. M. and west bound No. 233 will continue to leave at 3:44 P. M.

The National Limited on the main line will leave St. Louis 20 minutes earlier and reach New York one hour earlier.

Changes also are noted in the other through trains.

Robert Walker Speaks To Local Republicans

Portsmouth Business
Man, Is 6th District
Congress Candidate

A group of approximately 50 Fayette County Republican committeemen and other active party workers, including both women and men, were entertained Tuesday evening at a dinner in the banquet room of the Hotel Washington by Robert P. Walker, of Portsmouth, candidate at the May 8 primary election for the Republican nomination for Congress in this sixth Ohio district which includes Fayette County.

Walker was accompanied to this city by Mrs. Walker who is assisting her husband in his campaign work.

Reports from the meeting by those attending indicated that Walker made an excellent impression on those who heard him give his "getting acquainted" talk in this community. He had a pleasing and friendly personality.

Walker is export sales manager and credit manager for the Williams Manufacturing Company at Portsmouth, prominent in the shoe industry and is a citizen of very high standing in his home county. He has served as mayor and also city councilman in Portsmouth.

He is 42 years of age, a graduate of Ohio University, a lieutenant governor of Kiwanis and in World War II was identified with the U. S. Navy in service, also has been connected with the Ohio National Guard.

In his brief talk to those assembled at the dinner here he won admiration for his common sense approach, without oratorical effort, to the problems of his candidacy and to the issues to be faced by the U. S. Congress. He reviewed his own background and training.

In relating some of his experiences in connection with a business trip to China, just before it fell to Communists, he spoke of how he had learned how China had been taken over by trained Communist workers who had promised Chinese workers that the nation's wealth would be divided and they each be given a farm. Later the Communist government, finding that the experiment was a failure, took back the land and made everyone work for the government.

The speaker then aptly and effectively declared that many people in this nation were misled with similar promises in the days of the New Deal and so-called Fair Deal and were sold on the idea of getting "something for nothing" without sober consideration of what this would do to jeopardize sound government in the future.

Walker gave assurance to Republican leaders here that every county in this sixth district would receive equal official consideration in all matters, if he is nominated and elected to Congress. He also indicated that he would be back in this community at some early future date when he hoped to be able to meet many people throughout the county.

What Would You Do?

The same woman, asked if re-testing wouldn't be a good idea, so that the accidents wouldn't happen in the first place, said that it "sounds good," but that it was neither fair nor feasible.

Stiffer initial testing was a common suggestion. "Even though it's been tightened up, it's still pretty easy to get a license," said a contracting employee. He said, "I think they ought to have some sort of a license grading system—you know, if you had an accident, you'd be bumped a grade, until finally you didn't have a license any more."

A tight clamp-down on younger drivers was advocated by a barber. "They cause the biggest share of the accidents and they need the licenses the least—why don't they (police and judges, presumably) feel freer about suspending a youngster when he gets in trouble?"

Teenagers themselves were of a sharply varying opinion. "I know that we've got more than our share of trouble," said a Washington C. H. High School sophomore girl, "but I think we're taking more than our share of the blame, too. It's only a few of us and a lot of us are pretty good drivers."

A retired man, who said he had been driving for "oh, more years than I can remember," had what may be the last word to offer on the situation:

"There are just too blame many cars on the road... and you can quote me!"

Jeff FHA-FFA Banquet Set

IFYE Student
To Be Speaker

The Future Homemakers and the Future Farmers of Jeffersonville today were putting the finishing touches on plans for their annual FHA-FFA banquet that is to be held in the school gymnasium Thursday evening.

Miss Ann Sayre

If everything goes according to plan, the 37 Future Homemakers and 32 Future Farmers will sit down at the banquet tables at 7:30 o'clock.

The boys and girls are to buy the food themselves and prepare it themselves. Then, they are to turn the affairs of the kitchen over to Mrs. Roy Love, one of the school cooks.

Girls taking the home economics course are to serve the banquet.

Of course, the whole affair is under the supervision of Miss Phyllis Grimme, the home economics teacher, and H. H. Coffey, the vocational agriculture teacher, and the advisors of the two student groups.

A complete after-dinner program has been arranged, but the featured speaker of the evening is to be Miss Ann Sayre, Shelby County farm girl, senior at Ohio State University and a foreign exchange student.

MISS SAYRE spent four months in Scotland last year, living with 11 different families on all types of farms.

The International Farm Youth Exchange is a goodwill program under which farm youth spend time in other countries. They live with the farm families of the foreign lands as members of those families; the theory is that by living in the home, they get to know and understand each other better and, thus, develop closer relations and friendships between the countries.

Miss Sayre, who is majoring in social studies and English in education, may show slides of some of the pictures she took while living in Scotland to illustrate her talk to the FHA and FFA gathering.

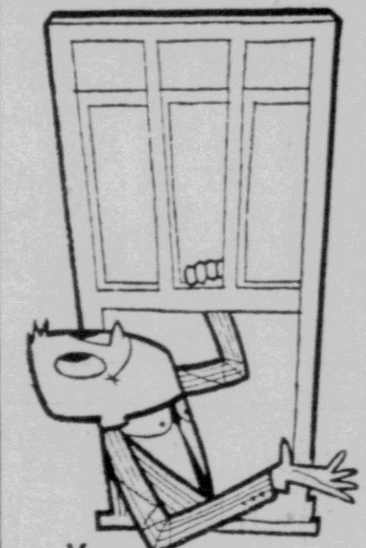

Home in West Union, are incomplete, pending the arrival of his son Frank from Greenland.

Band Mothers Organize at Bloomington

There's a brand new Band Mothers' Club in Bloomington today, as a result of an organizational meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Bloomington School.

Helping the Bloomington School Band and Mrs. Paul Elliott, Band Director, to do their job better is the first aim of the organization. In a statement made at the organizational meeting, officials of the club said they felt that the community should be "vitality interested in a project" of this sort.

Mrs. Carl McCoy was named president of the new group. Other officers are Mrs. John Cannon, vice president; Mrs. Robert Huff, secretary; Mrs. Lewis Evans, treasurer and Mrs. Joe Stultz, news reporter.

A band party, honoring the director and the band, was tentatively planned for May 11, following the Band Festival. A similar party had been in the planning stages at the Bloomington PTO, and a PTO-appointed committee will probably take over arrangements of the party for the band club.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Lewis Evans, Mrs. John Cannon and Mrs. Jess Schlechter. The committee said they hoped to have the cooperation of the whole group in planning the affair.

Facing Two Charges

When the driver of a motor car, or driveway truck, side-swiped Virgil Benson's automobile parked on East Market Street early Tuesday morning and kept going, officers took up the search for the truck.

Tuesday State Highway Patrolman R. W. Hackmeyer checked a driveway truck parked at a restaurant and found red paint on it and collision marks.

The driver told him, he reported, that he was not the one who was driving the truck at the time of the accident; so the other driver was notified to appear.

He was Elmer J. Ferguson, 25, of Cincinnati and when he showed up he was taken into custody until his hearing could be held in Municipal Court on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

The Benson car was damaged considerably.

Other arrests Tuesday included: Dossie L. Burgess, Elyria, who was charged with failure to stop for a stop sign;

Patrolman Hackmeyer Tuesday afternoon arrested Harold Thompson of Bloomington on a charge of driving 35 miles an hour. When Thompson decided he would not go with the officer, it was necessary to use force. A charge of resisting an officer was filed against him. His hearing on both charges will be on May 11. Bond of $135 was posted.

BIG EXPANSION

MIDDLETOWN — The city limits are to be expanded to take in 2,706 acres additional in suburbs, Armeo Park, Wildwood Golf Course and 1,000 acres of undeveloped land.

Tire Blows Out And Car Wrecked

When a front tire blew out as he was approaching the Paint Creek Bridge on Route 70 about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Washington C. H. at 10 P. M. Tuesday, Gwinn F. Boney of Cincinnati and several others in his car escaped serious injury when the car crashed into a guard rail and was damaged considerably.

The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolman W. R. Hackmeyer.

Mrs. Kitchen Dies At Home In City

Mrs. Esther Kitchen, 77, died at 6:30 P. M. Tuesday at her home, 441 East Street. She had been ill for a year and a half.

A native of West Lancaster in Fayette County, she was the daughter of the late Lee and Julia Ann Rankin and the sister of the late Judge Harry Rankin.

She lived for 25 years near Pitchin in Clarke County, returning to Fayette County to live in Washington C. H. in 1933.

She was a member of the Grace Methodist Church and of the In His Service Sunday School Class of that church.

She is survived by her husband,

William Kitchen, and a nephew, Richard Rankin, both of Washington C. H.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Friday at the Gerstner Funeral Home with Rev. L. J. Poe in charge. Burial will be in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call after 7 P. M. Wednesday at the late residence.

HELD FOR THEFT

LONDON — William Albert Morrell, 31, Clarks Mills, Pa., is being held for theft of a car here. Deputy Sheriff Bob Henry made the arrest when he saw the Madison County car parked along Route 42 near Johnsville, and saw Morrell walking in a nearby woods.

No Time Change On B&O Road Here

Although several time changes of passenger trains will become effective on the main line of the B. & O. Railroad, Sunday, no change will be made in connection with the two passenger trains the B. & O. runs through this city.

East bound No. 238 will continue to leave at 3:15 P. M. and west bound No. 233 will continue to leave at 3:44 P. M.

The National Limited on the main line will leave St. Louis 20 minutes earlier and reach New York one hour earlier.

Changes also are noted in the other through trains.
